Introduction:

Greetings!!

JSPM's Jayawantrao Sawant College of Engineering, Department of Mechanical Engineering conducted a seminar on "OBE Awareness Program" on Saturday, 15th January 2022. The seminar started at 9:30 a.m.

Objectives:

1. To acquire the knowledge and skills that are concretely measurable.
2. Engineering graduates must justify outcomes of their graduation.
3. To understand the terminologies of OBE.
4. To understand the graduate attributes and blooms level taxonomy.

Department of Electrical Engineering, JSPM's JSOE has organized FDP on "Introduction to industry 4.0 and industrial internet of things" from 01.01.2021 to 04.01.2021 Total 05 participants registered from JSOE .

The FDP was inaugurated at the Hands of Prof. Dr. R.D.Kanphade who gave overview of Importance of industrial internet of things in the college and appealed participants to take full benefit of FDP.

Mrs. D.padhi introduced the Experts for FDP and addresses the participant regarding FDP.

Er.Balasaheb Pawar take elaborative session on on Introduction to industry 4.0 and industrial internet of things and clear concepts of all participants regarding FDP . All doubts were solved by the experts.

Overall the FDP was successfully conducted for on "Introduction to industry 4.0 and industrial internet things"

Outcome:

As a part of industry institute interaction it is very important to bridge the gap between industry and institution and in view of this such FDP plays a vital role. The speaker elaborate very clearly about whats going on in industry and how faculty can utilise this knowledge to guide the students during academics and in projects.

Organizes

Orientation Programme for newly joined faculties

Date: 17/09/2021 Day: Friday

Time: 9.30 am to 03.30 pm

Venue: VC Hall - A Building

Speaker: Dr.M.D.Ingle

No. of. Participants: 55

Objectives

- to provide employees with information that helps them integrate smoothly and quickly into the organization
- to introduce employees to the organization as a whole—its structure, philosophy, purpose, values, and so forth
- to help new employees identify the importance of their roles within the organization and how what they do affects others

- to introduce employees to their department's goals and their roles in helping meet those goals
- to promote communication between the employee and management
- to communicate expectations regarding policies, procedures, and performance
- to make new employees feel welcome and to assure them that they made the right decision ..

Modules: The Orientation programme is divided into 4 modules

- Module 1 – Welcome Message , Compensation/Benefits
- Module 2 – Paperwork, Attendance/ Leave
- Module 3 – Safety/ Security
- Module 4 – Conduct, Training

Orientation is important because it lays a foundation for the new employee's entire career with the department. First impressions are important since they establish the basis for everything that follows. Without orientation, a new employee sometimes feels uncomfortable in his/her new position and takes longer to reach his/her full potential.

Orientation is important because it:

- Provides the new employee with concise and accurate information to make him/her more comfortable in the job;

- Encourages employee confidence and helps the new employee adapt faster to the job;
- Contributes to a more effective, productive workforce;
- Improves employee retention; and
- Promotes communication between the supervisor and the new employee.

Outcome:

This Orientation programme for the new faculty members about role of overall development of students/institutions, its framework and status of its implementation in the department as well as ensured the assessment and continuous development of all faculty members and also for the betterment of student.

Guidelines to Faculties for CEP :

- 1] Formation of PI for a course.
- 2] Prepare mapping table with proper justification
- 3] Prepare "Content beyond syllabus" based on gap analysis as per following table.
- 4] Prepare Course plan at a glance as per attached sample.
- 5] Prepare Teaching plan as per format.
- 6] Plan student activity along with title, statement, objective, mapping with POs-PSOs, performance parameters, rubrics etc .There should be at least one student activity per course. It can be performed in a small group of students. Student activity may contain case study / survey / field work / mini project / assignment / poster presentation / technical event etc.
- 7] Prepare industrial visit and guest lecture data.
- 8] Prepare question bank for MCQs / quizzes unit wise for online / Moodle tests.
- 9] Update / add / prepare course learning material in the form of soft notes, ppts, simulation.
- 10] Prepare the list of online learning material for Units as follows :
<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Xb05CaG7TsQ>. [Prepare self videos on some topics for students]
- 11] Prepare/ search short time (15-20 minutes) videos on a particular (important) topic [TLO] and required material (soft notes for it). For the same topic prepare quiz/game.
- 12] Identify relevant online course from MOOC / IIT open tutorials / Swayam / courser.org etc.
- 13] Identify minimum one experiment other than that mentioned in the syllabus & material required to conduct it.
- 14] If possible, try to plan innovative teaching-learning method for any unit / topic, such as For Board Method.
- 15] Upload all useful material on Moodle.

Report of Training Session on "Professional Ethics" for Teaching Staff

Date: 05/04/2020

Time: 10am

Mode: Online

Goal: To create professionalism and code of ethics among employees.

Objective: The main objective of the training is as follows:

- Define ethics in the workplace
- Compare examples of ethical & unethical actions
- Review reporting procedures & determine when to report
- Evaluate the causes of ethical dilemmas
- Establish ethical best practices for employees

Benefits:

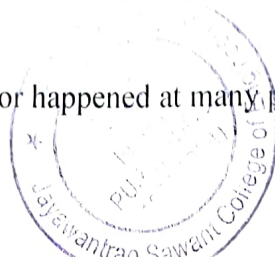

- Provide guidance to new employees
- Avoid costly mistakes
- Invest in employees' professional development
- Create a professional environment

About Training:

Department of Electronics & Telecommunication, JSCOE, Pune had organized one day training for all the faculty members of JSPM's Jayawantrao Sawant College of Engineering Pune-28 on date 05-04-2020. The function started with the welcome of Guest for the training session, Dr. M. B. Tadwalkar, Professor E & TC department followed by the introduction of Guest by HOD of E & TC department Dr. C. A. Manjare. Dr Rajendra Kanphade Principal of J.S.C.O.E also expressed his views about the program. The session was then handed over to the trainer. During the session, he has explained all the objectives very clearly and also motivated employees to follow good professional practices and code of ethics for positive and healthy atmosphere in the institute. He has discussed the characteristics of professional ethical behavior like:

- Consistently acting with good values
- Demonstrating respect through dignity, diversity, and equality
- Guiding your actions with principles of confidentiality, honesty, and transparency in work and in conduct toward others

He also given some examples of unethical behavior happened at many places and should not take place in educational institutes:

- Time, theft: Violating the organization's internet, computer, or social media usage policy; conducting personal business in college time.
- Dishonesty: Gossiping; spreading rumors; using false advertising to lure in society.
- Attendance: Chronic tardiness; absenteeism.
- Abusive conduct: Abusive behavior; bullying; coercion; threatening an employee for complaining about working conditions.
- Denial: Ignoring safety mandates; ignoring a potentially harmful problem at work; withholding information.

He, told being a professional means acting ethically, demonstrating integrity, treating everyone with dignity and respect, and owning up to mistakes. All attendees enjoyed the session with great enthusiasm. Around 35 faculty members attended the session. The list of faculty member is attached herewith.

The program ended by vote of thanks given by Dr. R. D. Gawade.

Takeaways

- Follow institutes policies and codes of conduct
- Fulfill your obligations
- Keep accurate records
- Avoid excuses
- Report problems & complaints immediately
- Treat everyone with courtesy and respect

Outcome: The program was beneficial and fruitful. The newly joined faculty members got inspired after attending the program and also had a experienced the practical experience by attending the sessions.

Administrative Training to HODs

Date: 12-02-2018 to 12-05-2018,

Time: 9.30 pm to 12.30 pm

Name of Speaker: Mr. Girish Joshi

Venue: VC Hall , A Building

No. of Participants: 12

Objectives:

1. Recognize ways the brain and thinking patterns contribute to/hinder time management.
2. Critically analyze personal time management effectiveness by creating personal time management tools.
3. Reflect on what values and priorities you want to spend time cultivating and how this impacts effective planning.

Module Outline

□ Welcome

Welcome the participants and review the agenda.

Perceptions of time management (time: 3 - 5 minutes)

Ask “how many of you often wish there was more time in a day?”

Ask “how have you been influenced to think about time management, success, and the general busyness of life?”

Discuss any negative portrayals of time management in society. (e.g. The ceo that always works 80 hour weeks; no time for self-care; etc.)

Time management personal profile packet (time: 25 minutes)

Part 1: expectations

Explain that expectations can be broadly categorized in three forms:

- o Self-imposed – expectations we place on ourselves.
- o Other-imposed – expectations from people who are close to you or who carry significant weight in your life. E.g. Friends, family, teachers, etc.
- o Socially-imposed – expectations from any ideas society holds about how we should operate, think or behave.

Encourage students to think about how they manage their own time.

- o Ask “when thinking about good time management, are there any expectations you can cut out that do not align with your own sense of self?”
- o Ask “are you spending time on certain expectations that do not contribute to personal meaning and satisfaction?”

Ask participants to complete “part 1: expectations” in the time management personal profile packet.

Part 2: time management profile

Have participants complete the activity in part 2 of the time management personal profile packet.

- o After participants have had the time to complete the activity ask, “were you surprised by anything you recorded? Did anything stand out to you as particularly helpful or unhelpful when it comes to your own personal time management?”

Part 3: priorities and values

Have participants complete the activity in part 3 of the time management personal profile packet.

Encourage them to really think and evaluate their top values and priorities.

These should be the aspects that best define their sense of self.

- o Ask “how much time do you spend cultivating the aspects you wrote down during a typical day?”

- o Discuss how spending time on values and priorities contributes to an overall greater quality of life.
 - How does your list compare to societal pressures?
 - How can you organize your routine to allow for your values and priorities?
 - What aspects might you need to cut out to make this time?
- o Play the jar of life video to help better explain this concept. Feel free to pause video at 1:42:

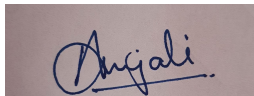

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=m0hqbiugr7i>

Part 4: Decision Making

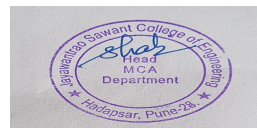

- o The Eisenhower decision matrix is a tool that is used to help determine what is urgent and important to better help plan tasks.
- o Urgent matters are those that are time sensitive. They have strict deadlines, or you have a narrow window of time to complete or participate in the activity.
- o Important matters are those that help you reach a goal, involve people or values you care about, or are asked of you by people of importance.

Outcome:

The Administrative Training for HODs about role of overall development of students/institutions, its framework and status of its implementation in the department as well as ensured the assessment and continuous development of all faculty members and also for the betterment of students.

Orientation Programme for newly joined faculties

Date: 15, 16 & 17- June 2017, Day: Monday, Tuesday & Wednesday

Time: 9.30 am to 12.30 pm

Venue: VC Hall - A Building

Speaker: Dr. Sagar Jambholkar

No. of. Participants: 15

Objectives

- to provide employees with information that helps them integrate smoothly and quickly into the organization
- to introduce employees to the organization as a whole—its structure, philosophy, purpose, values, and so forth
- to help new employees identify the importance of their roles within the organization and how what they do affects others
- to introduce employees to their department's goals and their roles in helping meet those goals
- to promote communication between the employee and management
- to communicate expectations regarding policies, procedures, and performance
- to make new employees feel welcome and to assure them that they made the right decision ..

Modules: The Orientation programme is divided into 4 modules

(four sessions each of 3 hrs)

Module 1 – Welcome Message , Compensation/Benefits

Module 2 – Paperwork, Attendance/ Leave

Module 3 – Safety/ Security

Module 4 – Conduct, Training

Orientation is important because it lays a foundation for the new employee's entire career with the department. First impressions are important since they establish the basis for everything that follows. Without orientation, a new employee sometimes feels uncomfortable in his/her new position and takes longer to reach his/her full potential.

Orientation is important because it:

- Provides the new employee with concise and accurate information to make him/her more comfortable in the job;
- Encourages employee confidence and helps the new employee adapt faster to the job;
- Contributes to a more effective, productive workforce;
- Improves employee retention; and
- Promotes communication between the supervisor and the new employee.

Outcome:

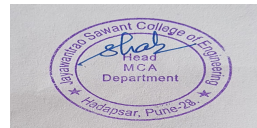

This Orientation programme for the new faculty members about role of overall development of students/institutions, its framework and status of its implementation in the department as well as ensured the assessment and continuous development of all faculty members and also for the betterment of students.
