Organizes

Orientation Programme for newly joined faculties

Date: 17/09/2021    Day: Friday

Time: 9.30 am to 03.30 pm

Venue: VC Hall - A Building

Speaker: Dr.M.D.Ingle

No. of. Participants: 55

Objectives

- to provide employees with information that helps them integrate smoothly and quickly into the organization
- to introduce employees to the organization as a whole—its structure, philosophy, purpose, values, and so forth
- to help new employees identify the importance of their roles within the organization and how what they do affects others

- to introduce employees to their department's goals and their roles in helping meet those goals
- to promote communication between the employee and management
- to communicate expectations regarding policies, procedures, and performance
- to make new employees feel welcome and to assure them that they made the right decision ..

Modules: The Orientation programme is divided into 4 modules

- Module 1 – Welcome Message , Compensation/Benefits
- Module 2 – Paperwork, Attendance/ Leave
- Module 3 – Safety/ Security
- Module 4 – Conduct, Training

Orientation is important because it lays a foundation for the new employee's entire career with the department. First impressions are important since they establish the basis for everything that follows. Without orientation, a new employee sometimes feels uncomfortable in his/her new position and takes longer to reach his/her full potential.

Orientation is important because it:

- Provides the new employee with concise and accurate information to make him/her more comfortable in the job;

- Encourages employee confidence and helps the new employee adapt faster to the job;
- Contributes to a more effective, productive workforce;
- Improves employee retention; and
- Promotes communication between the supervisor and the new employee.

Outcome:

This Orientation programme for the new faculty members about role of overall development of students/institutions, its framework and status of its implementation in the department as well as ensured the assessment and continuous development of all faculty members and also for the betterment of student.
